Terms of Use for National Nutrition Month® Resources

National Nutrition Month® is a federally registered service mark of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics (Academy). The "®" symbol should be used after the words "National Nutrition Month" to indicate its registration status. Promotion of National Nutrition Month® is encouraged, but only in accordance with these terms of use. Unauthorized use is strictly prohibited.

The mark "National Nutrition Month®" may be used to promote National Nutrition Month® to the general public or to companies and organizations which serve the public, or to refer generally to National Nutrition Month®.

The term "National Nutrition Month®" cannot be used to promote companies, services or products not associated with the Academy. The words must never be altered in any way.

Permission is granted to broadcast media and publishers for use of the mark "National Nutrition Month®" for use with publicity focusing on the campaign. The use of Academy NNM press releases is encouraged, as long as they are repurposed in their entirety and the content is not altered in any way.

Graphics, art, and related materials for National Nutrition Month® are also copyrighted and may not be altered in any way. The term "National Nutrition Month®" cannot be used on any items for sale or on any items to be given away that are already available in the Academy's NNM catalog, such as T-shirts, mugs, table tents, sticky notes and many others.

National Nutrition Month® campaign materials purchased from the Academy for free distribution to the general public may be imprinted with the message "distributed by [name of company, association or organization]."

Users are granted a limited license to display National Nutrition Month® as listed in 1-7 below.

1. School menus
2. Bulletin boards
3. Invitations to an NNM event
4. Newsletter articles
5. Educational flyers
6. PowerPoint presentations for a NNM event
7. Tickets for raffle prizes promoting NNM

Any other use requires written permission obtained from the Academy.
